

HISTORY

Our Mariner-in-Mission endeavor began in 1980 when a Mariner couple who had been serving as Mission Volunteers at Sheldon Jackson College in Sitka, AK returned and expressed the idea of taking a work team up to the college to help do some much needed maintenance on the campus. 23 people spent 2 weeks in June 1981 doing a variety of jobs such as painting, repairing, roofing, sewing, and building. In August of that year the idea was presented to National Mariners at their Annual Cruise (mtg.) and it was accepted. The first official MIM work camp was in 1982 at Ganado College in Ganado, AZ with 29 participants. In 1983, 42 persons participated at Wasatch Academy in Wasatch, UT. The decision was then made to have 2 MIMs in 1984, and later it grew to 3 and sometimes 4 MIM work camps a year. We have served at colleges, seminaries, boarding schools, disaster sights, camp and conference centers from Alaska to Florida, New York to California. As of this writing we have had 80 Mariner-in-Mission work camps and have saved institutions thousands of dollars. The participants furnish their own transportation, pay a nominal fee for their food and the institution provides the housing. At present, we limit participation to no more than 30 persons at each work camp. In 2005 National Presbyterian Mariners and its successor dissolved. Mariners in Mission organized as a Missouri Corporation and continues its mission providing volunteers for camps and conference centers. We are associated with PCCCA.

We Have Fun

We will bring a group of 25-30 workers to your Camp or Conference Center to arrive on Sunday afternoon and leave on Saturday morning with Wednesday afternoon off. We expect free lodging and a negotiated price for our meals. Supplies and large or unusual tools will be furnished by the institution. MIMers will bring their own hand tools.
